

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgements	xiii
Publisher's Acknowledgements	xiv
1 Meaning and Relationships in a Biological and Cultural Context	1
Contexts for analysing relationships	2
Biology: the animal background	3
Culture: the large overlay	4
Daily practices and everyday experience	5
Uncertainty and practicality	6
Quality and appropriateness in relationships	9
Communication as a context for 'quality'	10
Communicative contexts for doing relationships	12
Silent language: nonverbal communication	13
Are there social rules about space?	14
Nonverbal systems of meaning	20
[Un]Skillful use of nonverbal cues	23
Speaking up for yourself: using words	25
It ain't what you say: The role of language and paralanguage	25
More about content	29
Using language to relate to other people	31
Putting verbal and nonverbal together	36
Summary	37
Self questions	38
Further reading	38
Practical matters	39
2 Attachment and Emotion	40
Effects of childhood on later relationships I: attachment	42
Effects of childhood on later relationships II: experiences and observations	46

vi Human Relationships

Life at home and school	47
Interpreting emotions	49
Labelling and expressing feelings	52
Positive emotion: love	56
Are there different types of love?	58
Developing love?	60
The behaviour of lovers	62
Some problematic emotions: jealousy and shyness	64
Jealousy	64
Shyness	67
Summary	69
Self questions	70
Further reading	71
Practical matters	71
3 Daily Life: The Everyday Conduct and Management of Relationships	72
Starting relationships: biological and cultural contexts of attraction	75
Information and acquaintance: how we reveal things about ourselves	77
Getting to know you: shared meaning	79
Uncertainty reduction	80
Self-disclosure	82
The nature of relationships: everyday management in a practical physical world	85
How strategic are we in making acquaintances?	85
Self-disclosure as a strategic relational activity	88
Establishing, developing and maintaining relationships	90
Do partners always agree about their relationship?	93
Does it matter what 'outsiders' think?	93
Break up and resurrection of relationships	96
When things go wrong	96
Putting it right	100
Summary	103
Self questions	104
Further reading	104
Practical matters	104
4 Relationships within other Relationships: Social Networks and Families	106
Organizing an exclusive relationship within other relationships	108
The social context for organizing relationships	109
Who makes a relationship work?	111
Getting the relationship organized for outsiders	114

Recognizing two people as 'a couple'	115
Social norms and expectations	117
Organizing the couple's new connections	119
Adding children to the relationship	121
Families and networks	122
Systemic interdependence	125
Happy families?	128
Parents and peers as influences on kids	130
The disorganizing effects of family breakup and reconstitution	132
Children and divorce or reconfiguration	135
Summary	138
Self questions	139
Further reading	140
Practical matters	140
5 Influencing Strangers, Acquaintances and Friends	141
Relating is persuasive and vice versa	144
Persuading strangers, acquaintances and friends	144
Everyday persuasion	146
Influencing strangers	147
Strangers on the train	148
Being noticed	150
The apathetic context	152
The dog owner's dilemma	154
Dissonance	155
Problems with these ideas	155
Logos: Messages and persuasion	156
Reflections	158
Social and relational face: Was it something I said?	159
Everyday talk as persuasive	161
Persuasion and concerns about the relational context	163
The relational network as a morally persuasive context	165
Relationships as hidden persuaders	168
Summary	171
Self questions	171
Further reading	172
Practical matters	172
6 Technology and the Boundaries of Relationships: it's all Geek to me	173
Crossing relational spaces	175
The Internet as problematic relating	178

Some relational downsides of the technology	185
The Internet as a relational acquisition and development tool	190
Oh give me a phone where the charges don't roam ... mobile phones and perpetual availability	192
The mobile self and its mobile relationships	195
Smudging the time boundary	196
Summary	200
Self questions	201
Further reading	202
Practical matters	203
7 The Management of Relationship Difficulty	204
Four degrees of ... separation	205
Hamlet's fardels: the daily binds of relating	209
Whips and scorns: unpredictable events and unwelcome minor stresses/rough patches	213
Oppressors' wrongs 1: some more unusual problems with relationships	218
Oppressors' wrongs 2: the darker side of relationships	222
The greyer side of regular relating difficulty	224
Are there difficult people?	224
Triangulation	227
Summary	233
Self questions	234
Further reading	234
Practical matters	235
8 Some Applications of Relationship Research	236
Relationships are knowledge	239
Relationships are knowledge movers and shakers	241
Applying relational knowledge	243
Speaking to convictions: relationships in legal settings	244
Relationships in the workplace/marketplace	250
Engagement	251
Relationships and health	253
Summary	259
Further reading	260
References	261
Author Index	289
Subject Index	293